Timely Remarks. EDITOR CITIZEN:-Will you be kind enough and allow me some space in your valuable paper, quoting a few remarks from a letter which I have received from a prominent New York capitalist, with whom I have been corresponding on the introduction of an enterprise into this town, which if it could be accomplished would be of incalculable benefit to the Territory at large, and Tucson especially. The part Monday. of the letter which I am at liberty to quote, will show that we are well known east among men of means, and in what estimation in a business sense we are will show that it is high time for those was quite cool. who have the country's good at heart to combine in one strong effort, and show by private conveyance this morning for capitalists that we are earnestly seeking aid and assistance, and willing to offer such inducements as will bring them among us; part of it reads as follows: "Until the business men of Tucson look a little beyond themselves; until there grows up within them a pride of place, and the desire seizes them to see their city the most prosperous in the land, the city itself will not respond.

Half a dozen men have made Denver and in making it they drew to Colorado a people which storming the crags, drew so much treasure forth, that it caught the eyes of the old world and drew to the gallant State $25,000,000 of the new school building will be comforeign capital for investments.

In my opiniou, dear Sir, Tueson seems to lack that half dozen of men. From all I know and can learn from Arizona, I am to make the final adjustment of the confident that there are more hidden treasures beneath its surface than has over yet been discovered in California. Nevada, or Colorado, but the elements most needed in your Territory are "pluck" and "grit." I am told that the old inhabitants of Tucson have very little enterprise, that they live there unmoved without a protest, as to whether heritance, is diverted to other points.

There is no reason why Tucson should not be the distributing point for Southern Arizona, and should be Arizona's commercial center, but as it is, retail merchants are dealing direct with Kan- team of roadsters. sas City or San Francisco no matter how close they may be to Tucson, and unless your people make an effort, the time will come, when Tucson's import-ance will be a thing of the past; that kind of work never builds up cities, never did and never will, no city ever became great when it was steadily controlled by a spirit of utter selfishness.

It is my belief that if a half dozen of energetic men with sufficient capital would interest themselves in what you propose, your city would soon become one of the most prosperous on the Pacific coast, there are hundreds of vention people here in the East waiting for the electric thrill of enterprise. That they are not there, is because no inducements have been held out to them to come."
